A giant in this category of giants, with a level of concentration that's almost off the scale, but there's also giant mineral acidity that ignites this on the extravagant an extremely precise palate. It will take a while for it to throw off the last traces of youthful mushroom-spore aroma, but as you swirl the glass, an incredible world of fresh tropical fruit and dried fruit (fig, mango) opens up. Extremely long finish. From organically grown grapes with Fair'n Green certification. Drinkable now, but best from 2025.

In spite of the astonishing passion-fruit and hibiscus nose, this is like raising the blade of a samurai sword. The compression of steel that has been folded back on itself again and again, the finish dangerously precise. And, yes there is a slug of natural grape sweetness in here, but it is already so beautifully integrated. From organically grown grapes with Fair'n Green certification. Drink or hold.

An avalanche of smoky and stony minerality rolls over you, together with aromas of lemon curd and grilled lemon. Huge structure, but neither massive nor domineering, this has finesse that invites you to sit down and study it, if possible with a partner. Stunning finish, in which a hint grapefruit pith adds an extra burst of energy at the enormously mineral finish. From organically grown grapes with Fair'n Green certification. Drink or hold.

This smells like sunshine, but also the wild herbs in a steep and stony vineyard on which that sunshine falls. Fabulous interplay of ripeness and minerality, super-focused for this very warm and ripe vintage, the minerality very crystalline at the brilliant finish. From organically grown grapes with Fair'n Green certification. Drink or hold.

This needs a moment's aeration, but that helps it, in the way it helps many wines that have spent a few years in bottle. Very fine structure and harmony, the slatey power neatly underplayed, the finish really seamless. Mint, fennel and light anise notes ripple through this masterpiece of elegance. From organically grown grapes with Fair'n Green certification. Drink or hold.

Welcome to the smoke hole of German dry riesling, and with a little aeration the pineapple and ripe yellow-grapefruit aromas develop. Excellent structure and so much energy. The touch of grapefruit-pith bitterness on the finish only adds to the vitality. From organically grown grapes with Fair'n Green certification. Drinkable now, but best from 2023.

The beauty of the citrus fruit (the zest, the pith and the juice!) is on full display here. Concentrated and juicy front palate, then the minerality and the tobacco-leaf character climbs slowly out of the depths. Such exciting crushed-stone minerality at the very long and focused finish. From organically grown grapes with Fair'n Green certification. Drink or hold.

The wild-berry and herb aromas, together with radical minerality and mouthwatering freshness paint a picture of a windswept, precipitous hillside vineyard, surrounded by cliffs and forest. Dark and dangerous at the very long and dangerously refreshing finish. From organically grown grapes with Fair'n Green certification. Drink or hold.

On paper, this is a simple dry "estate riesling", but it has a wonderful combination of juiciness and forthright minerality. So bright and energetic with so much wild-herb character, but behind all this effusiveness is a very impressive structure. Long, crushed-stone finish. Beautiful yellow-peach, fresh-pineapple and lemon-zest aromas with minty freshness. Very cool and clean, with lovely juiciness that makes this skip and dance over the palate. The finish is quite tight and firm and, together with the youthful energy, this suggests it has an excellent future. From organically grown grapes with Fair'n Green certification.
